Product Description

Goat and sheep feeding trough, plastic trough feeders for goats feeding, sheep feed troughs

Description:

Goats are ruminants with four stomachs, so they eat throughout the day in order to keep food moving through their systems. Water, minerals and grains are the key components to feeding goats. Supply a bucket of fresh water, a mineral block and a feeding trough full of fresh hay, pellets and other roughage.

The advantage of sheep feed troughs: 1)plastic model, durable and easy to clean, much cheaper than stainless steel model;
2)The edge products are smooth, will not hurt animal;
3)easy to install;
