Product Description:

The Calf Island HP-MP10A product is our patented product, which has been innovated on the original basic design. Compared with traditional group raising methods, it has its own unique advantages. It can prevent calves from sucking each other, greatly reduce the chance of mutual contact and the spread of pathogenic microorganisms, and reduce the incidence of calves. The normal service life can be up to 30 years; the product is added with anti-oxidation and anti-ultraviolet UV elements, has anti-oxidation and anti-ultraviolet functions, and has a good heat insulation function. The temperature difference between inside and outside is about 5-8 , and it will not be deformed under direct sunlight. Or fade.

The advantage of this new design is that many accessories are considered suitable for the overall design of this small cow island, such as milk bottles and feed buckets.
