Product Description:

The Milking Cluster Group is a crucial component of any Milk Harvesting Machine, designed for efficient milk extraction from goats and sheep. This comprehensive product consists of the following key elements:

- 1. Milk Shell: The milk shell is a vital part of the Bovine Milking Mechanism, providing a secure enclosure for the milk during extraction.
- 2. Milk Liner: Made from high-quality silicone, the milk liner ensures a hygienic and gentle milking process for the animals.
- 3. Milk Valve: Equipped with a semi-automatic valve, specifically the Interpulse ITP205 Model, this component regulates the flow of milk during milking sessions.
- 4. PVC Pulse Tube: The PVC pulse tube is an essential part of the Cow Milking Unit, facilitating the pulsation process to mimic the natural sucking action of young animals.
- 5. PVC Milk Tube: This durable PVC milk tube ensures the smooth transfer of milk from the animal to the storage container.
- 6. Milk Claw: The milk claw is a pivotal component that connects the milk tubes from multiple animals to the milk line, streamlining the milking process.

The Milking Cluster Group is specifically designed for use with goats and sheep, making it a perfect fit for Goating Milking Machine Parts. The silicone cluster liner ensures a comfortable and efficient milking experience for the animals, while the semi-automatic valve enhances the overall milking efficiency.
